

JANUARY 2019

From The President's Desk George "Jeff" Forbes

Here we are again at the end of another funfilled year with The Scottish Society of Louisville. Looking back, it seems a like blur of activity from being named the honored Society at the Glasgow Games to Corn Hole contests and picnics, Kirkings, encounters with Scottish aliens (see picture below), the list goes on. Finally, the year culminated with our Annual Dinner Auction where we were again successful in raising more funds for the SSL Heritage Fund. From this side of the desk, it has been a great experience and a joy working with our Board and active members. Thank you for making 2018 a most enjoyable run!!

Coming up, of course, is our Burns celebration and it's going to be a good one. A new and exciting band (BarrenHart) will be providing the entertainment and Dr. Andrew Day, from the University of Louisville, will present the Immortal Memory of Robert Burns. Don't forget to bring your dancing shoes as the Corson's will again get us up and moving about. Oh yes, and direct from Scotland....the effervescent Mr. Hughes will be doing the honors as Master of Ceremonies. For me, it will be extra special in that a Forbes Clan table will, for the first time, be part of the audience. It will include my wife, son-in-law, daughter and my brother and his wife. They can't wait and neither can I.

A lot of good programs are on the schedule for 2019! You may have heard of the movie Reindeer Games!? We are going to have our own version when Carolyn Trego presents on the Cairngorms Reindeer Herd. My brother will be taking us on a "Skye High" hike over the Isle of Skye. Lastly, I am looking forward to getting even with my peers when we again compete in a game of Scottish Trivia in May...we lost by only one point last year.

Let me take this opportunity to wish all a Happy and Healthy New Year. Hope to see all of you on the 26th of January at Woodhaven Country Club for our Annual Robert Burns Celebration!

To the Membership:

RE: SSL 2018 Dinner and Auction

You've done something remarkable! I'm amazed, grateful, and inspired. That's how your generosity makes me feel!

Thank you for your generous donations, purchases, the wonderful food each brought to share and to Melissa Ingram's procurement of the meats, for the auctions held at our November meeting to benefit The Scottish Society's Heritage Fund. Thanks to President Forbes for leading this event!

The Live Auction was a huge success in terms of the quantity of donations to be auctioned! Many, many thanks to our dedicated Auctioneer, Jack Bowling, and his helpers, Gary Sweitzer and Bruce Wilson, who expertly worked the event to hold the audience's attention for an exciting and fun filled time! And to anyone else I've missed.

Thanks is due to member Carolyn Cook who kept the Silent Auction not so quiet and energized us to "beat the clock" to make our bids run down to the last minute with her joyous encouragement to keep the bidding competition going!

This year we had an increase in the basket donations. We again had tables arranged by pricing and color coding, and saw a significant increase in the winning bidding prices. Many, many thanks to President Jeff Forbes for getting the tablecloths on ahead of time, for Arch and Mary Cunningham who helped with the placement of the bid sheets, and to so many others who willingly helped with details to make this part of the event run smoothly.

We developed a new Jewelry table this year, and several benefactors made it possible for us to expand the presentation to two tables! Thanks to Janice Beatty and Jenny Dickson for organizing this part of the event as it was a huge success!

The Cashier's table ran so smoothly and efficiently! Many thanks for the dedication and expertise of our cashier's Sandy Berenberg, Carolyn Trego, John Dickson and John Scott! You are treasured and highly appreciated!

Thanks to all of you, we had a wonderful turnout and a very successful live and silent auction. I'm truly appreciative of what everyone did to make this event a success! This will help the Heritage Fund to continue its financial support of students, performers, athletes and scholars in their pursuit of greater skill or understanding of Scottish culture, heritage and arts.

Thank you again for your generosity. Great to see everyone again!

Warmly and In Gratitude, Judy Stubbs

Help Needed for Burns Night Gala

Updated message from VP Janice Beatty.

The Burns Gala is only 1 month away! Melissa Ingram is the Chairperson and I am helping with the Spirit Bottle Raffle. We would like you to donate a bottle of your favorite spirits---wine, scotch, bourbon, etc. for the Raffle. You will get a receipt for your donation. Please bring your items to the January 22nd General meeting or bring them the night of the Gala.

Also help is needed to sell the Annual Kilt Raffle tickets at the event. The Scottish Trading Company generously donates a kilt. I need two people to sell---one at the table as people are coming in and the second to walk around the tables during breaks in the program, encouraging people to buy a ticket.

We will have a door prize table again. Your Burns ticket gives you one chance to win a gift from this table. I need donations appropriate for the table. Please bring your items to the January

Also help is needed to sell the 22^{nd} General meeting or bring it Annual Kilt Raffle tickets at the with you the night of the Gala.

Editor's Note:

We are starting a new COLUMN with this issue. It is called Family Links (FL). It is designed to help beginner and veteran genealogy researchers to find their links to their lineage. It will contain suggestions and tips you might not have thought of in piecing together their family history. This column is authored by a friend to genealogy research, Bryan Mulcahy. Bryan sent me a couple of articles about helping people in doing genealogy research and I thought it would be a great addition to our monthly newsletter. To Bryan's credit, he is interested in helping people find their origins. It is free for us to use.

Thanks Bryan and welcome aboard!

Funeral Home Records: Their Genealogical Importance By BRYAN MULCAHY

BEGINNERS

Funeral homes and mortuary records often contain significant amounts of genealogical information. This information often exceeds what will be found in published death announcements, obituaries, and death certificates. Many families have used the same funeral home and cemetery for several generations. Funeral home staff can be very helpful in assisting patrons with queries. Many funeral homes as part of their chargeable services to the family of the decedent often place the announcement or obituary in the newspaper. Information in funeral home packets on decedents may include some of the following genealogical gems:

1. Details of the death and burial that would appear in the published death announcement or obituary

2. A complete listing of everyone who has attended the funeral and signed the guest the book, or send flowers in lieu of attendance.

3. Birthplace of the decedent's parents, grandparents, and another close family members both in the United States and Europe.

4. Location of the burial or cremation site and name of the minister or priest presiding over the funeral and the church he represented.

Taking the time to write a polite and specific letter to the funeral director may allow you to search and copy significant pieces of information from the decedent packet. In most, but not all cases, patrons have reported that funeral home director and/or their staffs were far more helpful than the staff at the county courthouse or cemetery. As a matter of courtesy, I always advise sending the funeral home director a thank you letter after receiving the information. This courtesy could prove beneficial when or if their services are needed later.

The decedent packet maintained by the funeral home is the most valuable piece of genealogical information for research purposes. Examples of documents that may be found in decedent packets include the following:

- 1. Death Certificate
- 2. Obituary or death announcement
- 3. Burial Permit
- 4. Copy of transit permit (if the body was shipped to an other state or country)
- 5. Autopsy results and body preparation instructions
- 6. The text of the obituary
- 7. Casket and vault selection and invoice(s)
- 8. Burial clothing, hair styling, and makeup instructions
- 9. Detailed invoice for all charges
- 10. Information concerning funeral service, officiating clergy and pallbearers
- 11. Correspondence related to the funeral arrangements and family matters
- 12. Funeral/Memorial Cards/Programs

Holiday Season

INTERMEDIATE/ADVANCED

The winter holiday season is a time of reflection for many as we age. The winter holidays are often the time of year when family members and individuals often reflect about departed friends, neighbors, siblings, parents, and grandparents.

Family holiday celebrations are the most common place during this season when friends and family get together, exchange greeting cards and/or detailed letters that talk about the highlights of what has happened this past year. While recent statistics show that more family events tend to take place at Thanksgiving, there are still many that take place at Hanukkah, Christmas, and Kwanzaa. In 2018, these major events take place on the following dates: Hanukkah (Sunday, December 2nd – Monday, December 10th; Christmas (Tuesday, December 25th), and Kwanzaa (Wednesday, December 26th - Tuesday, January 1st).

While it would not be the primary purpose of these events, the winter holiday season may offer several opportunities to incorporate genealogical research into these social occasions. This is especially true when talking with aging family members who are often more reflective and approachable during this period for the following reasons:

- 1. Time of year when people think of holidays past, traditions no longer practiced, and family members long since deceased.
- 2. After age 50, everyone usually reflects on departed friends and elderly family members.
- 3. Nostalgia combined with the holiday season often presents opportunities for motivating them to talk about the past.
- 4. Many genealogists use this time to encourage parents and grandparents to write down information pertaining to family holiday traditions.
- 5. Later, they will discreetly expand this nostalgia to include filling out family group sheets and pedigree charts about the family.

Some of the most popular options that many seasoned genealogists recommend include the following:

1. Bring photo albums or copies of old family pictures to the get-together for family members to identify. Photocopies of these original pictures that can be written on work well for this purpose.

2. Holidays are the occasions for breaking out special decorations and family keepsakes. Treasured ornaments, special family china and holiday serving pieces, handmade linens, and other items provide opportunities to share family history information. A handmade ornament may be a family heirloom, and telling the story of its origin reinforces and perpetuates its history from one generation to another.

3. Post Dinner Relaxing Period: If you are staying with relatives, the quiet time at the end of the day, just before bedtime, can be great for reminiscing. This is often a time of reflection when family members may talk about all the nice things that happened that day and recall past holidays and family members who are gone.

4. Suggest that you would be willing to sit down with them at their convenience and record the information, take any pictures, make any photocopies, or assist with any activities or expenses.

From Around Scotland 2014

By John Moffett

Pleasant view of the river and town of Peebles, in Southeastern Scotland. See photo below. This is the River Tweed on its way to the confluence of the North Sea at Tweedmouth, England. It is about 60 miles due east. Peebles is about 25 miles south of Edinburgh. The borders of Scotland to the north and England to the south is split down the center of the River Tweed a couple of miles down stream.

We visited this quaint city, with lots of stores to shop and fine restaurants with local culinary menus. It is a nice place to visit. On each side of the River Tweed there are well-manicured parks and river walk for all to enjoy. If you are in the area make sure to stop at Peebles, you won't be disappointed.

THE SCOTTISH SOCIETY of LOUISVILLE

Information For Our New Members

Welcome to our new members. Coming into a new group can be a little scary, but know that if you have any questions, just ask. The people in the SSL are some of the friendliest you would ever want to meet. Here is a little bit of information to get you started:

- Read the newsletter and the website. All upcoming events will be listed both places. If you want more information, you can contact any of the board members. Their information is found on the last page of this newsletter.
- All meetings will have a business meeting, some time to socialize, and a program.
- January/February brings our Burns Night Dinner. You won't want to miss that. There will be food, drink, raffles, entertainment, and an all-around good time.
- May starts our "Event" season. The Society sets up a booth at many local and state Scottish and Celtic events, and even a couple of out-of-state events. Don't be afraid. Jump on in and help us in our booth. It's not hard, and everyone will help. It is a great way to get to know some of the members
- November is a really fun meeting. We have a potluck dinner and an auction. Members will be informed of what type of dish to bring according to last name. The auction is so much fun. Everyone is asked to bring at least one item, if they wish, to donate. Now, you will find that a lot of the items are things you would love to have, but some of them ... well, you just have to be there to appreciate it. Proceeds benefit the Heritage Fund, which helps promote the study of Celtic-related "studies" by individuals.
- In December, we do not have a meeting.

We hope that you will attend as many meetings as possible (hopefully all of them). We are so happy to have you as a part of the group.

Heritage Fund

The Heritage Fund Committee is accepting applications for the dispersal of scholarship funds. The Fund helps support the efforts of SSL members to pursue studies of the many different aspects of Celtic culture, which may include music (piping, drumming, fiddling, etc.), art (dancing, weaving, etc.), language (Gaelic, etc.) and athletics (Highland games).

This Fund can also support a person's interest in an educational program or project that furthers the understanding of Scottish culture and history.

Scottish Society members in good standing can apply for funds or can sponsor non-members for scholarships.

The application form and guidelines can be picked up on the evening of the Society's monthly meeting from the Heritage Fund Committee Chairperson, Janice Beatty, or by e-mail at vicepresident@scotsoflou.com, or by using the online form here.

The deadlines for receipt of applications are March 31st and September 30th.
